The offices of governor, United States Senator and state senator are not on the ballot this year.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. in the various township halls in the county and in Grayling city hall.

There has been some misinterpretation of the rules governing the Miss Grayling Pageant. The Miss Grayling Pageant is not a franchised pageant; only the Miss Michigan Winter Sports Pageant to be held on February 8, 1969. A community is allowed but one franchised pageant. A franchised pageant is that which is sanctioned by the Miss Michigan Pageant, Inc. - Miss America Pageant, Inc. A franchised pageant must adhere to those rules and regulations set down by the national committee.

Therefore, to enable Miss Grayling's competition in the Winter Sports Pageant, we must have her qualify according to those franchised rules.

Any contestant entering the Miss Grayling Pageant must have reached the age of 17 by September 3, 1968; should she reach the Miss America finals in September, 1969, she would then be the required 18 years of age.

Any entrant in the Miss Grayling Pageant must have established the required residency of six months in Crawford County by the time she would appear in a franchised pageant; i.e. six months in Crawford County by February 8, 1969.

Anyone having further questions is asked to contact Mrs. Earl H. Longworth, pageant director.

Dramatically Speaking ...

BY CARL MINOR

Technically, professional playwrights define drama as the acting and seeing of plays, the acting in and producing of them on stage is termed dramatics. Students at Gray's high school study both drama and dramatics. In the required English curriculum, the study of drama is an integral part of the program. Senior English literature classes this year will read and discuss Macbeth and A Midsummer Night's Dream by William Shakespeare, and Pygmalion by George Bernard Shaw. Students in the American Literature classes will study Eugene O'Neill's In the Zone and Thornton Wilder's Our Town. Sophomores will study Shakespeare's Julius Caesar and The Tempest, as well as William Gibson's The Miracle Worker.

Dramatics is a part of both the speech I and speech II classes, as well as a co-curricular activity. Introductory units on the various phases of both drama and dramatics are provided in the speech I program. As additional work in the course, first year students read a monthly magazine entitled "Literary Cavalcade," which includes a full-length play in each issue. The speech II course is primarily a course in dramatics and advanced public speaking. One of the early assignments of the latter course is the re-writing of a dramatic script. Later on the class members are required to write an original one-act play. Special opportunities in dramatics are provided by the Viking Drama Club and the National Thespian Society. Last year, starting with the fall play and ending with the spring musical, more than 300 GHS students participated in local plays, either as actors on stage or as members of the backstage production staff.

Students are encouraged to attend worthwhile movies and to watch outstanding dramatic productions offered by television. For instance, a special television of A Midsummer Night's Dream is scheduled for this season. Students are urged to make an effort to watch this program, since they will have discussed and read the play in class. Many of these dramatic programs form the basis of classroom discussion on what is good theater. The recent TV production of The People Next Door elicited some excellent classroom discussion among our students. The major theme of the play — the generation gap, the lack of understanding between adult and teenager — formed the key to many thought-provoking questions and comments.

When possible, students are asked to read both novels and plays before they see or produce them. An example of this is Pride and Prejudice, which is the first play to be produced at GHS this fall. As a novel, it is one of the required book reports for English Literature students this year. It is interesting to note, as Robert Bovee, GHS guidance counselor, pointed out last week, the first book on the American Library Association's current list of required books for college-bound students is none other than Jane Austen's Pride and Prejudice. It is also on the suggested list for Albion College, which sends out for college-bound students, as well as the list of classics recommended by the National Council of Teachers of English.

tey Madsen, the regular editor of The e, decided he'd better lend a helping hand ely daughter, Toni, prepared for her wed-Saturday.

Whitey invited me to help get out the paper ple of weeks — including filling this spot ditorial page.

lently, last week's paper was only: the sse of The Avalanche in 22 years that lid not personally oversee in its production 'hat's dedication — or something.

ny rate, with the election coming up in less eek, what other subject fits as well for a torialist?

there are dangers. For example, I've he advice of James A. Clendinen, editor ampa Tribune, in preparing this column. tes Editor Clendinen:

sonally, I doubt that our paper can influ- atful of votes in a presidential election. es for president have so much public ex- ver the years that the independent voter as made up his mind how he feels long e election. From my own experience, a r exerts its greatest influence in the deter- of complex issues — as in constitutional ents — and in the election of candidates ts which do not receive concentrated pub- tion: For example, the legislature."

ll, Mr. Clendinen has given me the perfect agree that The Avalanche could have s little effect in helping its readers decide r to vote for Nixon or Humphrey or Wallace. y it would be somewhat presumptuous for ditorialist to whip into town, write a pro- dy editorial, and then leave again quickly.

id as for the local races — sheriff and judge, lly — they have received more than ade- cal attention to permit well-reasoned de- by local voters.

o let's turn then to constitutional amend- and other questions of statewide referend- um, a form a vital part of next Tuesday's Mich- voting.

Five questions will be on the ballot, and here y recommendations on all five:

Proposal No. 1 asks whether the State Con- sion should be amended so that "an income flat rates or graduated as to rate or base may posed by the state or any of its subdivisions."

he key part of this question is permitting a ated income tax, which now is prohibited by ate constitution. The present state income — and local income taxes where they have adopted — are limited to a flat rate: that is, xpayers must pay the same rate of 2 percent percent or whatever. But under the graduated y, the more you earn, the higher percentage ay — such as under the present federal in- tax.

seems to me that we have plenty of gradu- ately under the federal system; and to per- he graduated tax on the state or local level e too big a temptation to tax-writers to e the same type of selective taxation that dded our local property tax assessment sys- or so many years. Therefore, I'm going to 'No' on Proposal No. 1.

Proposal No. 2 poses this question: "Shall ate of Michigan observe Daylight Savings single argument has persuaded me on this on: My wife is against daylight savings time. lams it's too tough to get the kids in bed in mertime while the sun is still high in the She opposes daylight savings time for health is — our kids' health.

hat's good enough for me. I'm going to vote n Proposal No. 2.

Proposal No. 3 would permit the state to $355 million and issue general obligation or for the purpose of planning, acquiring and uting facilities for the prevention and abate- of water pollution."

hat seems like a whale of a lot of money. But ook, few natural resources are more valu- than our water supply — and few are being ted faster.

This bond issue would help. And help is cer- y needed. I'm going to vote "Yes" on Proposal

4. The fourth proposal is another bonding tion — whether the state should borrow $100 on "for public recreational facilities and pro- sents consisting of land acquisition and the devel- opment of parks, forest and wildlife areas, fisheries other facilities used or useful for public recre- al purposes."

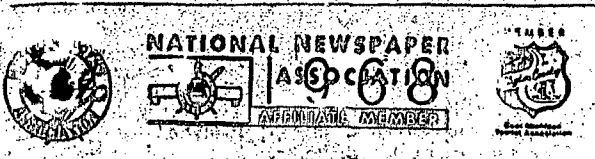

People in Crawford County may not be as ely aware as are those from more crowded s of the state of the need for more recreational . . . that is, until you try to camp out on a through Michigan.

In my book, this is another sound use of public y as population continues to increase, recre- areas get more crowded, and leisure time gets plentiful — at least, for most folks. I'm going e "Yes" on Proposal No. 4.

The final proposal is of much less general rance than the first four. At present, mem- of the legislature may not run for any other hile they serve in the legislature. This has bothered some of our lawmakers, who wanted to run for mayor or judge or something. Proposal No. 5 would permit legislators to seek another office while they still serve in the legislature — although presumably they would have to resign from the legislature if they're elected to something else."

I have no strong feeling on this question one way or the other. But I'm going to vote "Yes" for a two-pronged reason: If they're good men, legislators should not be denied the right of seeking higher office; and if they're not such good men, then the legislature would be better off if they were elected to something else.

Well, that's all the advice from this column this week except for one last urging:

Mrs. Maggie Leverson's brother, John Lafayette, who had been here on a trip and was returning to his home in Punta Gorda, Fla., with a cousin, tells of stopping at a roadside table in Indiana for a drink and seeing a big butterfly light behind the car's bumper guard. Just for fun, he checked each time the car stopped on the way south, and the butterfly was still there. It rode all the way to Punta Gorda, stayed overnight and then left the next morning. It now comes back to visit daily and get nectar from John's flowers, he reports.

and yielded the ball on a punt to Pellston on the Hornet 28. The Hornets began to march again, covering 50 yards on penalties, before Rick Holmes intercepted a Zulski aerial on the five to thwart the attack. The Viking line had it stopped earlier on the 32 only to have their fourth-down stand nullified by a penalty which gave the Hornets new life.

In the third period, Grayling only handled the ball for seven plays, picking up only one first down, while Pellston piled up seven first downs in its march to one score and one near-miss.

Grayling found itself again in the fourth period, however, and regained control of the contest. One key to crushing the Hornets' comeback came after Zulski intercepted another Burkett pass on the Grayling 35. One play later, however, Zulski was knocked loose from the ball and Viking Tony Ellison claimed the fumble for Grayling.

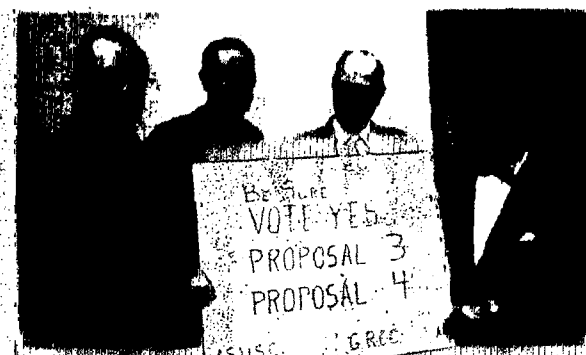

The other key came after Pellston had to kick late in the quarter. The Vikings then covered 60 yards in nine plays, sparked by a beautiful 39-yard run by Holmes on which he threaded the sidelines, broke two tackles and lugged the ball to the Pellston four. Three plays later, Holmes took it into paydirt from the one. Burkett hit Hartman for the point and the final score became 21-6 with less than one minute to play.

In first downs, Grayling had only a slight 14-13 advantage, but Pellston concentrated its attack in the third period while Grayling's was sustained in the other three.

Despite the cold weather — which prompted Grayling to locate two charcoal burners near the bench so players could warm their hands — the ball handling by both teams was sharp and the passes crisp.

Penalties were numerous against both sides. The Vikings, however, had the unusual and dubious task of playing over 30 yards in penalties assessed against the Grayling coaches and team officials on the sidelines for remarks to the game officials.

The Mancelona game Friday, closing the season for the Vikings, will be in Grayling.

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

By Bill Scheer
Of all the passers who have ever played pro football, which one had the best percentage of completed passes in a season? ... Record is held by Sammy Baugh, who in 1945, completed 70% of his throws. ... No other regular pro passer has ever topped that.

Who holds the record for catching the most passes in pro football history? ... Many fans might say Don Hutson, who is generally regarded as the greatest receiver of all time. ... But, that's not true. The record is held by Ray Berry of Baltimore. ... He's caught over 600 passes in pro football. ... Hutson, by the way, who played in the NFL from 1935 to 1945, finished with a total of 488 passes caught.

Pd. Pol. Adv.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE VOTERS OF CRAWFORD AND ROSCOMMON COUNTIES

Dear Voter:

In the August primary election, you saw fit to select me as a candidate for judge of the new District Court.

In my campaign, I have spoken to many groups and tried to meet personally as many voters as possible. I have tried to inform you of the type of court I would conduct, if elected: a court where the law will be upheld in a fair but firm manner.

I have avoided charges and accusations in public appearances and newspapers because I believe such conduct to be unfitting; but more important it obscures the real issue which is: "Who would best serve you as your District Judge now and in the years to come."

I ask your support on November 5th and, if elected, I pledge to use all of my energy and ability to make our District Court the best in the state.

THANK YOU

Strategy

It's Tim's move, and he is taking a long time thinking it over. In chess, if you're a good player, you don't play quickly. If you do, your opponent may outwit you.

Military strategy, they say, is based on the rules of chess. So are many of the "higher games" in business and finance. Yet, when it comes to life itself, the rules of chess apply in only a limited way. In life, you can't be totally objective. You can't exist on logic alone.

The Church teaches that though we surely need logic in order to live successfully, we also need compassion, tolerance, love, understanding, and the strength that comes with faith.

Although life is not a game, we must have the help and strength of the Church to discover those rules that will determine our ultimate destiny.

There is no such thing as a free lunch, and there is no such thing as a free ride. To get something for nothing is to get into a bad habit.

The employees took an average of six days a year leave. However, they were generally felled by respiratory diseases which men had digestive diseases.

Children Vote At Library

Voting fever will hit a peak the week of November 4-9 at the Crawford County Public Library as children through the eighth grade level ballot for their favorite book. All children living in Crawford County are urged to visit the library during the voting week and cast their ballot indicating the book which they like the best.

As the young voters prepare to vote, they will be issued a ballot to fill out and deposit in the ballot box. Parents may help fill out the ballot, but are urged not to influence the voter.

Mrs. Harry Souders, librarian, indicated that the results of the election will be published and the ballots sent to the Grand Traverse Area Library Federation in Traverse City where they will be tabulated on an eight county basis.

Mrs. Souders said, "As the parents go to vote this week for their candidate for president, they should bring their children to the Crawford County Public Library to vote for their favorite book. Let's make this a family 'Get Out the Vote' effort."

The library is open from noon to 5 p.m. and 6 to 8 p.m. 5 days a week and 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturdays.

MERCY HOSPITAL AUXILIARY MEETING

The next business meeting of the Mercy Hospital Auxiliary will be held on Nov. 7th. Plans will be discussed on holding a Silver Tea on Nov. 14, from 1:30 to 5:00 p.m. at the Viking Room of the Chief Shoppenagons Hotel.

PAM

The marriage of Miss Pamela Susan Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Good Sr. of the Manistee River, Grayling, with Thomas E. Crook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin E. Crook of Saginaw, took place at noon on Saturday, Oct. 12, in a low mass ceremony performed by Father Louis Ivandic at St. Mary's Church. Chrysanthemums and iris graced the altar. Music was by Sister Janet Brown.

Escorted by her father, Pamela was attired in an ivory silk organza gown with Alencon lace yoke designed with high-rise neckline and tiny pearls, puff sleeves with Alencon lace cuffs, and Watteau chapel train edged with lace. A flowered crown with pearlized beads held her cathedral veil. She carried a cascade of gladioli and ivy.

Attendants were maid of honor Patricia Woick of Rockwood, Linda Knibbs of Grayling and Sharon Nameth of Detroit. They wore floor-length chiffon sheath dresses with fitted Empire bodices, long sleeves edged with small tucks, matching hats and veils. Their flowers were nosegays of white mums and fall blooms.

Miss Mary Ann Rutkowski served as junior bridesmaid when the bride's sister, Maribeth, came down with chicken pox.

William Crook served as best man, with Robert Phetteplace of Port Huron and David Mas-kill of Royal Oak as ushers, Roger Gilg of Albion and Robert Miller of Romulus attending the groom.

Mrs. Good chose a gold brocade sheath and matching coat with brown accessories. She carried gold mums. Mrs. Crook wore champagne shantung and matching jacket with brown accessories, set off by a corsage of pink rosebuds.

A luncheon reception at the Chief Shoppenagons followed the ceremony.

An Open Letter to the People of Crawford County:

As your Justice of the Peace for the past 11 years, I would like to thank publicly all the citizens of Crawford County for their consistent backing at the polls, and their co-operation and support in the execution of the judicial duties they elected me to perform.

As you all know, the new State Constitution of 1963 reorganized the court system in Michigan, and allowed a five-year "grace" period for the changes to be put into effect. That "grace" period is now coming to an end, and with it the office of justice of the peace throughout the state.

To replace the justices of the peace and to assume their work-load, the State Legislature has created the new District Court. My office expires and the new District Court takes over next January 1. Who the new District Judge will be depends on the choice you make at the polls next Tuesday, November 5.

On my own behalf, I would like all the people of Crawford County to know how privileged I feel to have been permitted to serve them. I have tried in all instances to deal honestly and fairly with the people and issues involved, and to provide for the people of Crawford County that careful balancing of individual rights and the public-good-that we call "justice."

My efforts to achieve sound law enforcement with impartiality have been supplemented and supported through the years by the cooperation of the concerned citizens of this county. I extend to you my heartfelt appreciation.

I want also to compliment the police officers of the county and the city of Grayling for their dedication to duty and high standard of performance over the years, and to thank them for the many ways in which they have made the work of Justice of the Peace easier. My thanks also go to the members of the legal profession in the county, sincere and dedicated men all, whom I am pleased to count among my personal friends.

Now, on the eve of Election Day, when you will choose the new District Judge, I have a recommendation to make for your consideration. You will be picking a man to serve two counties - Crawford and Roscommon. He will assume not only all of the duties of the Justice of the Peace courts, but also some of the duties of the present Circuit Court.

He will be breaking new ground. In a sense, everything the new District Judge does will set a precedent, because he will be the first to hold the office. In this situation, there is a rare opportunity for the voters to choose a man who will take a fresh and creative approach to the office, unencumbered by the dead weight of past routines.

In such a situation, it seems to me that a candidate's most important assets - in addition to basic personal integrity and an objective, judicial temperament, of course - are advanced, up-to-date training in current legal trends, and a youthfully vigorous, forward-looking approach to the fulfillment of the new judgeship's responsibilities.

To my mind, district judge candidate FRANCIS L. WALSH of Houghton Lake Heights admirably meets these specifications, and I strongly recommend him to my friends in Crawford County.

I yield my duties as Justice of the Peace with regret, but with the confidence that the election of Francis L. Walsh next November 5 will assure to all the people of Crawford County the adherence to the ideal of impartial justice that you have the right to expect of your judges.

My thanks and best wishes to all.

Sincerely,
OLIN WILLIAMSON
Justice of the Peace

JOHN AUXILIARY MEETINGS — 2nd & 4th TUESDAYS

O. E. S. No. 83 Installs New Officers

Officers of Grayling Chapter No. 83, Order of the Eastern Star, for the year 1969-70 were installed during an open installation Saturday evening (Oct. 24) at the Masonic Temple. Approximately 75 persons attended. Mrs. Dorothy Williamson, Grand Electa of the Grand Chapter of Michigan, O.E.S., was the installing officer.

Mrs. Marian McMillen was installed as Worthy Matron for the ensuing year while Rex McMillen was installed as Worthy Patron for the second year. Other officers installed were: Associate Matron Irene Peterson; Associate Patron Jerome Heska; Secretary Thelma McWilliams; Treasurer Marjorie Haugen; Chaplain Elsie Jansen; Marshal Alvin Critcher; Organist June Feldhauser; Conductress Lillian Houghton; Associate Conductress Capitola Westervelt; Adah Dorcen; Piper Ruth Ruby Reetz; Esther Bernice Heska; Martha Patricia Failing; Warder Hazel Carver and Sentinel Glen Nolan. Ethel VanNocker will be installed as Electa at the Nov. 13 meeting.

Members of the installing staff included Elsie Jansen as installing Marshal; Laura McLeod as installing Chaplain; and June Feldhauser as installing Organist and Soloist; and Beverly Kinkert, assisting installing Marshal, and Mercedes McMillen, assisting installing Organist.

During the ceremony Mrs. Feldhauser sang "Love One Another," the new song written especially for the new Worthy Grand Matron of the Grand Chapter of Michigan, Lucille Koken of Ann Arbor. Other solos included "How Great Thou Art," "Whispering Hope," "The Lord's Prayer," and during the retiring officers march, "The Way of the Cross Leads Home."

Mrs. McMillen was presented with two special gavels to use during the year; one was the gavel of her father, J.W. Hewitt of Hastings and Largo, Fla.

which he used during his 18 years as Mayor of Hastings and while chairman of the Barry County Board of Supervisors. The other was the Friendship Gavel of the former Woodland Chapter O.E.S. of which Mr. and Mrs. G. R. McMillen are Past Matron and Past Patron. Decorations in the Chapter room followed the theme of the new Worthy Matron and Patron — the Holy Bible and the Praying Hands depicting "The Power of Prayer." In front of the podium in the East, resting on a pink and silver brocade cloth, were the Eastern Star Bible and the Masonic Bible belonging to the Worthy Matron and Patron with a bronze replica of the Praying Hands sculpture. Each Star Point pedestal was covered with a matching cloth on which was a smaller replica of the Praying Hands along with lighted candles in appropriate colors. These smaller Praying Hands were made by the Worthy Matron for the occasion. In the West at the base of the podium was a 5-branch brass candelabra from Taiwan with candles in the Star Point colors while the flowers of the Star Points were placed atop the pedestal. All persons taking part in the installation ceremony wore pink carnations, a gift from the Worthy Matron and Patron.

Court Corner

Thomas M. Burns

With most of the election emphasis on the Presidency and local races leading up to the Nov. 5th election, many candidates for district or subordinate state offices are finding it difficult to attract attention or arouse enthusiasm.

One such race is for the new judges on the relatively new state court of appeals.

The new appellate court first was established by Michigan's new Constitution just five years ago, and nine judges were elected — three from each of three districts. Now a fourth judge is being added in each district.

In the third district, which includes northern Michigan, the Upper Peninsula, and southwestern Michigan — the candidates are Thomas M. Burns of Saginaw and Stuart Hoffius of Grand Rapids.

Burns, a former member of the state legislature and one-time chairman of the Michigan Public Service Commission, is fighting the battle for attention by making as many talks as possible throughout the sprawling district.

In addition, he is dropping in to visit as many small town editors as possible in the hopes it will bring a news story. In this case, it worked.

"Recent events have focused the attention of the public on the courts as never before in history," Burns commented in a recent visit with your editor.

"There is mounting concern that this nation, although a world leader, is unable to secure for its people protection for their lives and property."

"Delay in processing civil and criminal appeals prompt the legislature and congress to seek other methods — shortcuts to justice — although the advocacy system of settling disputes when properly administered has been the best method of revealing the truth and securing justice."

"Evolution, not revolution, of our judicial system seems to me to be the answer. The administration as well as the dispensing of justice has become an important responsibility of judges both on the trial and appellate level. The willingness to assume its obligation in order that the Courts operate in an environment of efficiency rests solely with those who are elected to fill those most important judicial posts."

Burns, 54, practices law in Saginaw. He was an assistant Saginaw prosecutor and served in the Legislature from 1953 to 1956, and on the Public Service Commission for six years, the last year as chairman.

Hoffius, 41, is opponent in the third district, is a Circuit Judge and a former Kent County Prosecutor.

Present judges in the third district, who are not up for election at this time, are Donald E. Holbrook of Clare, John W. Fitzgerald of Grand Ledge, and Robert B. Burns of Grand Rapids — no relation to candidate Tom Burns.

Also on the ballot this fall will be the new district judge in all the districts, and on the justice of the state supreme court.

Supreme court candidates are one incumbent, Justice Michael D. O'Hara of Menominee, and his challenger, Thomas Glen Kavanagh of Flint, who currently is an appellate court judge.

Spelling Taught by Computer

Holding kids spellbound with spelling may be possible by using a computer does the instructing. And, the poor who needs extra attention from his teacher may also be one to profit most from computer-assisted instruction.

This is indicated by newly tabulated achievement gain for a group of 100 sixth-graders in three schools who spent weeks learning their spelling via computer, while their students received conventional instruction.

The project was carried out by The Center for Computer Research and was coordinated by Pennsylvania State University.

Are you paying more than 11¢ a gallon for your home's heating oil?

If you are, you're paying too much.

If you are now using natural Gas (or plan to) for heating, water heating, clothes drying or Gas-stoves, and your use is equal to that of our average residential non-heating customer, read on. You qualify for our special service rate which gets you Gas for heating at a price equal to fuel oil costing 11¢ a gallon.
Whether you convert your present furnace, or even install a new Gas furnace, we will pay for its installation by a participating Gas heating contractor. And, except for the Gas you use, it won't cost you a penny for six months after installation.
We'll buy the oil that's in your tank at the price you paid for it. We'll remove the tank from your home at no cost to you, and we'll haul it away if you want.
Convert to thrifty natural Gas. Then you can stop putting your money in the bank. Call us ing contractor and full details.

USING THE VOTING MACHINE

(CITY OF GRAYLING AND GRAYLING TOWNSHIP)

The voter may use a sticker or write the Candidate's name in.

It would be best to write the name, because sometimes the sticker will peel off.

For some it would be easier to use the sticker because the sticker or written name has to be at the top of the machine and will be difficult for some to reach.

Be sure to write the full name.

To vote for a write-in sticker candidate for the office of Sheriff on the voting machine — First lift the 13th small sliding panel at the top of the machine (Sheriff's column) then write in full name or paste sticker. "BE SURE TO MAKE YOUR X ON THE STICKER."

Stickers and information will be available near the polls at voting time.

Now residing at 113 Boardman, in Traverse City are newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. John Jacob Dyke. She is the former Toni Arline Madsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard D. Madsen of 404 Ionia Street, Grayling, and John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Dyke of 3775 Three Mile Road, Traverse City.

The young couple spoke their vows before the Reverend Charles Kolb in a four o'clock ceremony at the Michelson Memorial Methodist Church on Saturday, October 26, 1968. A striking combination of white chrysanthemum blossoms and bittersweet provided the decorations. Music was by Mrs. Ralph Hoffman at the organ.

Given in marriage by her father, Toni was gownned in a white linen floor-length dress with A-line skirt and bell sleeves, the accent being hand-crocheted lace on the sleeves and neckline. A double tier of the same lace at the skirt hem was set off by hand-crocheted daisies between the tiers. A circlet of lace held her full-length veil, which was touched throughout with hand-crocheted daisies. She carried a bouquet of white bebe mums.

Attending the bride were Mrs. Floyd Millikin of Bay City as matron-of-honor, and bridesmaids Linda Madsen of Flint and Mrs. David Schlaack of Evart, cousins of the bride. They wore A-line full-length dresses with matching hand-made double bows and carried bouquets of mums. Mrs. Millikin's costume was in bittersweet and those of the bridesmaids in burnished gold.

Robert James Dyke of Tekonsha served his brother as best man. Seating the 200 guests were another brother, Thomas Leo Dyke of Traverse City, and Dane Eric Madsen, brother of the bride.

Mrs. Madsen chose an off-white knitted dress with brown, orange and gold trim, and brown accessories. Mrs. Dyke was attired in an off-white knitted dress with gold coat and bronze accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of bronze mums.

Grandmothers Mrs. John A. Papendick and Mrs. L. P. Kalahar each wore yellow chrysanthemum corsages.

A six o'clock reception was held at the Chief Shoppenagons Motor Hotel, after which the new Mr. and Mrs. Dyke left on a honeymoon trip to the western Michigan shore. For this bride wore white double-knit wool trimmed in lace with navy accessories. Toni is a 1963 Grayling High School graduate and has attended Northwestern Michigan College. She is presently employed at the City Hall in Traverse City.

Out of town guests for the wedding and reception were from Jackson, Bay City, Traverse City, Iron River, Evart, Gaylord, Grand Rapids, Williamsburg, Saginaw, Battle Creek, Flint, Clio, Sparta, Big Rapids and Green Bay, Wis.

By Marjorie Flower

Mr. and Mrs. Roger C. Nelson and children Michael, Paul, and Pammy of Ann Arbor were weekend guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl W. Nelson. Also here to spend the weekend at their cabins and with the elder Nelsons were Mr. and Mrs. Richard K. Nelson, Jon and Jan of Grand Rapids, and Robert E. Nelson and his daughter Sally Jo of Pontiac. All joined together at a family dinner on Saturday. Other-out-of-town callers at the Earl Nelson home during the weekend were Jack Perry of Pontiac and Fred Ohlmacher of Holly, Michigan.
